

The 21st European Regional IAAH Conference 2018
SYMPOSIUM PROGRAMME
October 4th

| | |
|------------------------------|---|
| SYMPOSIUM TITLE | Violence, gender, school, and community |
| RATIONALE AND CONTENT | Violence in and around schools affects millions of children and young people in all countries in the world. Both girls and boys encounter gender-based violence that poses a serious risk to physical, mental and sexual health and well-being and violates their human rights. This symposium will review the scope of school-related genderbased violence in Europe and Central Asia, key risk and protective factors and discuss how national policies, teachers' and other service providers' capacity building and wider community engagement can make a difference to protect children and young people from violence. |
| Lead facilitator: | Mr. Tigran Yepoyan, PhD, MBA, Regional HIV and health education advisor for Eastern Europe and Central Asia UNESCO Institute for Information Technologies in Education Pauline Lynch, Education Officer, Inclusion and Equalities team Education Scotland, Scotland Mr. Iosif Moldovanu, MA, Director, Child Rights Information Centre Republic of Moldova Mr. Maksim Kostenko, PhD, Rector, Altay Kray Teacher Post-Graduate Training Institute, Russian Federation Ms. Svetlana Suvorova, Board Chair, "Doctors for Children" public organization, Russian Federation |
| Language | Russian (with simultaneous translation into English) |

| | |
|-----------------|---------------------------------------|
| Schedule | 14:30 – 16:30 Second day, October 4th |
|-----------------|---------------------------------------|