

IAAH Congress 2018

PROGRAM, SKILLS BUILDING WORKSHOP IAAH 2018

October 3rd 2018

WORKSHOP TITLE	School health: state of the art and perspectives
RATIONALE	Various approaches have been adopted to improve adolescents' health in school setting. School management, curriculum and teaching, organization of school healthcare or setting up services such as school welfare services, external links with local health services and health professionals are considered as efficient ways to create a healthy setting. The literature suggests that health services can be successfully involved in HP programmes if they are associated with the school programme as a whole and if the work of the healthcare practitioners is complementary to that of other school professionals.
Facilitators:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Didier Jourdan, UNESCO Chair "Global Health and Education", France • Vladislav Kuchma, Chair of Hygiene at the Moscow Medical University • Huber-Gieseke Tina, school health service of the city of Freiburg, Switzerland • Tigran Yepoyan, Senior Project Officer for HIV, Chief of Unit, UNESCO
Language	English (with simultaneous translation in Russian)
Training objectives	This workshop aims to take a stock of where we are in terms of school health promotion, to identify challenges, barriers and enablers and to share the various ways of improvement. After a brief introduction (Prof. D. Jourdan), we'll work on the challenges and change levers for school health. Two speakers will give us an account of the situation in EECA countries (Prof. Kuchma from the Chair of Hygiene at the Moscow Medical University) and in Western Europe countries (Dr. Huber-Gieseke from the school health service of the city of Freiburg, Switzerland). Based on the experience of the participants and the input of the speakers, we'll work together on the key enablers to move forward in terms of policies and practices. Dr. Tigran Yepoyan (Senior Project Officer for HIV, Chief of Unit, UNESCO) will make a synthesis based on the workshops production on challenges and change levers.
