

IAAH Congress 2018

PROGRAM, SKILLS BUILDING WORKSHOP IAAH 2018

October 3rd 2018

WORKSHOP TITLE	Responding to adolescents' sexual &amp; reproductive health needs
RATIONALE	Sexual and reproductive health is central to adolescent development. Adequate health care, prevention, sexual health promotion and education represent in all parts of the world a major challenge, both for health care providers and stakeholders in charge of designing preventive interventions and policies. A well-trained, cultural sensitive workforce, using a rights-based and developmental approach, is crucial to meet the SRH educational and service needs of adolescents.
Facilitator:	Dr. Susanne Stronski, MD, MPH Paediatrician, specialist in adolescent and school health . Bern, Switzerland susanne.stronski@insel.com
Co Facilitator:	Dr. Pia Jakobsson-Kruse, MD. gynaecologist Stockholm, Sweden pia.jakobsson-kruse@sll.se
Language	English (with simultaneous translation in Romanian)
Training objectives	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Develop effective strategies to discuss and investigate SRH needs in an adolescent taking into account cultural and personal values</li> <li>2. Access relevant epidemiological data in order to understand SRH service and educational needs of adolescents.</li> <li>3. Review relevant counselling approaches in the prescription and follow up of contraception</li> <li>4. Review the management of adolescent unintended pregnancy, including abortion.</li> <li>5. Review sexual rights and their impact on the provision of sexuality education and the management of sexual violence (incl. female genital mutilation)</li> <li>6. Evaluate the effectiveness of various preventive approaches targeting the issue of STIs (incl. STIs) and pregnancy</li> </ol> Training objectives might be slightly changed according to the needs of participants
Schedule	October 3 rd morning (9-12h)